

- 1 PT is a tangent to the circle at point A . AB and AC are chords of the circle, and BC is also a chord, with triangle ABC drawn inside the circle.

$AB = BC$ (triangle ABC is isosceles) and the angle between the tangent PT and the chord AC is 58° , as shown.

Show that the angle between the tangent PT and the chord AB (angle PAB) is 64° .

(4)

(Total for Question 1 is 4 marks)
